This policy explains how Battleship Command collects and uses data to provide the game experience.

1. Data We Collect

We collect minimal data necessary for game functionality, including:

- User IDs: Unique Discord IDs to track your rank, wins, and inventory.
- Guild IDs: To identify which servers the Bot is active in.
- Game Data: Statistics related to matches played and market transactions.

2. Use of Data

Data is used exclusively to facilitate global matchmaking, maintain your persistent inventory, and generate market history graphs. We do not sell or share your data with third parties.

3. Data Retention

Your game data is stored in our secure database as long as you remain a player. You may request data deletion by contacting us in the Support HQ.

4. Third-Party Services

We use Google Analytics on our website (mybattleships.net) to track visitor traffic and button clicks. This data is anonymized.
